Dividing Whole Numbers by Unit Fractions

When you divide a whole number by a unit fraction, you are actually trying to figure out how many of that unit fraction are in the whole number. Since we kept the whole and fraction the same as on page 12, you can see how the order affects how we interpret the problem.

how many wholes you have  $3 \div \frac{1}{4}$  Read it as: "How many fourths are in three wholes?" how many to divide each whole into

Let's look at what's actually happening with a few models.

2	6	10
3	7	11

This model shows the wholes broken into fourths. That makes 12 pieces in all.

$3 \div \frac{1}{4}$

Dividing Whole Numbers by Unit Fractions

Some exact steps to when we divided a unit fraction by a whole number! But, check out how it affects the final answer. The one is a whole number!

To Divide Whole Numbers by Unit Fractions

- 1 Convert the whole number to a fraction over 1.  $\frac{4}{1} \div \frac{1}{6}$
- 2 Invert (flip) the second fraction.  $\frac{4}{1} \div \frac{1}{6} \rightarrow \frac{6}{1}$
- 3 Change the division sign to multiplication.  $\frac{4}{1} \div \frac{1}{6} \rightarrow \frac{4}{1} \times \frac{6}{1}$
- 4 Multiply like normal (see page 9).  $\frac{4}{1} \times \frac{6}{1} = \frac{24}{1}$

A lot of people like to use KCF (Keep, Change, Flip) to help them remember the steps for dividing fractions. Check it out!

K Keep the first fraction
C Change the operation
F Flip the second fraction

$\frac{4}{1} \div \frac{1}{6} \rightarrow \frac{4}{1} \times \frac{6}{1}$
